As we wander in forest green friends also pass but are seldom seen

Use this book to make your word known to others that wander and roam

Come often and read what others write and learn how many have joined the fight to find old friends in make now this book is a contact to others like you

The forest does belong to all this book will remain until the fall

Out on a short jaunt, showing a friend is lace and ma o lers.
Fine Labor day indeed has brought us a walking stick to cherish. Very fitting in a symbolic manner I do believe. Thank you, Keeper, for the labor you put forth to keep this place alive, well, it will always be alive, thank you for keeping it intact

We talked to a man who said he owned the forest. What will you do if he cuts it all down? Do you think it is ever possible to own a forest? It makes me sad that every time I come up here
more of it is gone.
How do I become

old enough to be the lonely oak.

recommend

Dear Keeper

I found this copy of a oil painting 'The lonely Oak' by Johanna Lerwick on the
net. Is the same one? Yes Is it real? Yes Is it on this hill? Yes

Few know the location
few visit it now
Its magic is fading
Its time is near end Sit in the stone wall see in front fading the tree and be still

How keeps and dreams will be drawn into the tree and into the roots of the earth
